Teamsters Face AFL-CIO Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Embattled Teamsters bosses, found by a federal court to have arranged or tolerated "a conspiracy to rig" their election at the recent union convention, faced punishment late today on corruption charges from the parent AFL-CIO.

The federation's powerful 29-member Executive Council, comprising organized labor's top leadership, assembled to consider ousting the Teamsters.

Although President-elect James R. Hoffa reportedly has made a number of overtures to avoid suspension of the union, it was reliably reported the Council had rejected these and was ready both to suspend the union and recommend its expulsion by the AFL-CIO convention next December.

But a part of the plan reportedly was to name a three-member council committee with which Teamster officials could consult to learn what cleanup steps they must take to avoid eventual expulsion.

IT WAS REPORTED that consideration had been given even to having Hoffa step aside and take an indefinite leave from the Teamsters Union to cool off some of the heat that has been engendered by the widespread corruption charges against Hoffa, retiring President Dave Beck and other Teamsters chiefs.

Hoffa now is prohibited by a preliminary injunction from taking over the union's helm. The injunction was issued late Wednesday by Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts. But the judge refused to put the union under a court receiver, as he had been asked to do.

Judge Letts acted on the basis of his findings that the Teamsters convention held at Miami Beach, Sept. 30-Oct. 5, was illegal.

Letts agreed with a 13-man group of rank-and-file New York Teamsters members that a considerable number of convention delegates were seated illegally.

"The public interest," Judge Letts said, "is intimately involved in the fortunes and welfare of defendant International Brotherhood of Teamsters; and irresponsible stewardship of that organization threatens the common good as well as trade unionism in general. "And it also threatens to obstruct the ordinary channels of transportation and delivery throughout the United States and Canada, thus endangering substantially the entire economic structure."

Beck and Hoffa had been found by the Senate Rackets Committee, in hearings running most of this year, to have misused union funds and abused their powers.

New Holland Petitions Withdrawal

440 Signatures Ask Connection With Fayette Co.

A petition asking for the withdrawal of the New Holland local school district from Pickaway County was presented yesterday to Superintendent of County Schools George McDowell.

The petition, with 440 signatures, requests the Pickaway County Board of Education to transfer the local district to Fayette County School District.

Presented by Mrs. Jane E. Mossbarger, Mrs. Mary Lou Vincent, Frank (Cris) Cross, and Sheldon Grimes, the petition stated:

"To the County Board of Education of Pickaway County:

"Your undersigned petitioners, all of whom are qualified electors residing in New Holland Local School District, and who voted in the last general election, hereby petition that you transfer all of the territory comprising said New Holland, Ohio, Local School District to the Fayette County, Ohio School District in accordance with the provisions of section 3311.23 of the Revised Code of Ohio."

STATE LAW requires a transfer petition to have signatures of at least 75 per cent of the number of residents who voted in the last general election. Approximately 507 New Hollanders voted in the 1956 election.

Superintendent McDowell said that he has notified members of the county board of education by letter that the petition has been presented. The board is not expected to discuss or act on the transfer until the regular board meeting scheduled for November 6.

Under state law, the Pickaway County board may, after consideration, make the transfer of territory or refuse to do so. If the county board declines the request, the matter may be appealed to the state board of education.

County board members have not said whether they would approve the transfer. However, in its consolidation plan of October 2, the board had included the New Holland district, along with the local districts of Wayne, Jackson, Perry and Deer Creek Townships, in a "southwest" consolidated district.

The consolidation order was later rescinded on a legal technicality at a special board meeting October 14. Board members indicated at that time however, that they had not changed their minds on the consolidation question or on the constituency of the proposed new districts.

If the New Holland transfer is approved, the district's withdrawal would probably be effective by July, 1958.

'New Look' Designer Christian Dior Dies

MONTECATINI, Italy (AP)—Christian Dior, 32, king of the fashion world, died early today of a heart attack while on holiday in this north Italian resort.

The quiet, balding and slightly paunchy creator of the revolutionary "New Look," was the second of French fashion's major post-war designers to die after a brief but meteoric career. Jacques Fath succumbed three years ago, at the age of 42, to leukemia.

Dior was virtually unknown until 1947, when he burst to the forefront of the bitterly competitive fashion trade with the revolutionary longer, full skirts of his New Look. In that one season he became the dictator of high style, and never since had anyone come topping him from his pinnacle.

Abe Lyman Dies at 69

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Abe Lyman, former bandleader and composer, is dead of cancer at 69. Among his song hits were "Mary Lou," "I Cried for You," and "After I Say I'm Sorry."

1,500-MILE JUPITER ON TARGET — Fired at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Army's 1,500-mile range Jupiter rocket streaks skyward (top left), lights up the sky (lower) and curves toward a pre-selected target area (top right) like a flaming meteor. Minutes after the firing the Defense department in Washington said, "The (60-foot) missile flew its prescribed course and impacted in the pre-selected target area."

U.S., British Aides Named To Set Up Scientific Pool

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan today reached basic agreement on pooling scientific and weapons development.

They named two groups of experts to work out specific recommendations, in the atomic and missile fields. A joint statement issued at the White House disclosed:

Lewis L. Strauss, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission chairman, and Sir Edwin Plowden, chairman of the British Atomic Energy Authority, were designated to make "recommendations in the field of nuclear cooperation."

Sir Richard Powell, British permanent defense secretary, and Donald Quarles, U. S. deputy defense secretary, were instructed "to make recommendations in the field of military defense, particularly those problems dealing with missiles and rocketry."

Diplomats working with the two leaders said these two further lines of action are to be expected as a result of the Macmillan-Eisenhower get-together:

1. A recommendation to Congress by Eisenhower next year for revision of the U. S. Atomic Energy Act to permit sharing of atomic weapons secrets with Britain as

Big Crosby Plans To Wed Starlet, 23

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Bing Crosby and actress Cathy Grant, obtained a marriage license today.

Crosby's first wife, the former Dixie Lee, died Nov. 1, 1952. The crooner is 53, and Cathy is 23.

After obtaining the marriage license Crosby and Cathy left for Yerington, Nev., some 350 miles from here. They said they would be married there and honeymoon at Crosby's ranch at Elko, Nev.

Ohioan Tells Senate Probers He Was Paid as 'Labor Spy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness told investigating senators today he was an antiunion "labor spy" in the Whirlpool Co. plant at Marion, Ohio, until "they just got too vicious for me."

The testimony, from Charles Little of Marion, contradicted statements Wednesday by the company's labor relations director, Theodore Hufert, that he knew of no antiunion activities there.

Little told the Senate Rackets Committee he reported regularly to Hufert on his activities until he was fired after making an about-face and becoming a vigorous union supporter.

The testimony marked the third day of public hearings in which the committee is seeking evidence to show whether employers have engaged in what Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) termed calculated efforts to circumvent and violate the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Law.

"I'm very much ashamed of myself," Little said as he sat in the witness chair with bowed head.

1957 Community Fund Lacks Only $746.88

Special Efforts Needed To Reach $28,700 Goal

The 1957 Pickaway County Community Fund today was only $746.88 from its $28,700 goal.

To date $27,953.12 has been given to the fund for operation of the five fund agencies — Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Canteen, Salvation Army and Red Cross.

With 97.4 per cent of the goal already in hand, a special effort is needed to put the fund "over the top", according to Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mason, campaign co-chairmen.

Flu Closes Wayne Township School

All city schools and nine schools in the county were closed today following an outbreak of virulent flu early this week.

Wayne Twp. School closed down this morning after attendance figures revealed 37 per cent of the students were absent.

Other county schools closed are New Holland, South Bloomfield, Duval, Ashville and those in Walnut, Madison, Darby and Washington Townships.

All county and city schools will be closed tomorrow to permit area teachers to attend the Central Ohio Teachers Association Convention in Columbus. All city and county schools are scheduled to reopen Monday.

Absenteeism is reported high in county schools remaining open today.

THE OHIO Department of Health warned today that flu lowers resistance to other diseases and infections and advised anyone having flu symptoms to stay in bed for the duration of the disease.

Among flu symptoms listed by the department are muscular aches and pains, chills, fever, a dry hacking cough, and sore throat. A high fever may last from one to five days.

Because of the danger of complications, the department advises seeking a doctor's care if any of the following symptoms develop.

1. A sudden rise in temperature after the 4th or 5th day.
2. Severe chest pain, especially upon deep breathing.
3. Coughing which brings up a great deal of yellowish or greenish mucous material.
4. Heavy, deep, difficult breathing.
5. Unusual drowsiness or stupor.
6. Excessive muscle pain or stiff neck.

Flu in Ohio Hits Central Area, Is Due in Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Influenza has steadily moved from the northwestern part of the state into the central area, leaving countless thousands of sneezing, sniffing victims in its wake.

In all probability, the flu is now ready to invade the eastern and southeastern sections of Ohio.

But almost as though it needed a toehold for the eastward surge, the bug hit again in southwestern Ohio Wednesday, an area that had been recovering from last week's round of flu.

Absentees in Cincinnati's schools Wednesday numbered 17,880, an increase of 4,356 over Tuesday.

Absenteeism was on the increase, too, in Hamilton, Middletown and Lebanon.

In Youngstown, however, school absenteeism dropped from 30 to 25 per cent.

Doctors predicted weeks ago the flu would start in northwestern Ohio, where cool autumn weather hit first. The illness spread across northern Ohio and down the western side of the state, and next week will probably reach the eastern regions.

SCORES of schools in all parts of Ohio have closed, partly because of fear of contagion, and partly because so many teachers are sick.

Pickaway, Lawrence, Scioto, Guernsey, Marion, Crawford, Wyandot and Franklin counties all reported additional schools closing Wednesday. In Columbus (Franklin County), enough substitute teachers were on hand to keep classrooms open.

In Wayne County, high school attendance climbed toward normal

Wednesday, but Wooster College and several elementary and junior high schools continued to feel the effects of the flu outbreak. Only 527 absentees were reported by the county's 10 high schools compared with 974 last Friday.

Wooster College officials Tuesday cancelled most of the school's extra-curricular activities and put a three-day ban on academic examinations. There was no estimate of the number of flu cases among the student body.

All Wayne County public schools have remained open throughout the three-week flu outbreak on advice of Dr. L. A. Adair, county health commissioner.

Among the correctional institutions, the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster reported the only serious outbreak, with 116 of 871 inmates ill. The Girls' Industrial School at Marysville reported five staff members down with flu, but no inmates. London Prison Farm had one flu case, Mansfield Reformatory five and Ohio Penitentiary four.

The number of influenza-related deaths reached 12 Tuesday night with the death of Jesse W. Cutler of Youngstown, whose illness started as flu but developed into bronchial pneumonia.

Pickaway, Lawrence, Scioto, Guernsey, Marion, Crawford, Wyandot and Franklin counties all reported additional schools closing Wednesday. In Columbus (Franklin County), enough substitute teachers were on hand to keep classrooms open.

Guatemala Poll Results Ruled Void by Army

GUATEMALA (AP) — Army leaders running Guatemala under a state of siege threw out Sunday's presidential election results Wednesday night after the second fatal demonstration in two days.

The high command announced that the election was nullified "in order that a new election may be called at the first opportunity to solve within legal principles the presidential succession."

There was no indication when the vote would be held.

Congress was called into session to ratify the decision and to legalize the modified form of martial law imposed Monday when demonstrations began.

The army said it was "taking transcendental decisions" to end the election strife. Its action apparently halted a mounting crisis touched off by the government party's claim that its candidate, Miguel Ortiz Passarelli, had been elected.

Supporters of rightist Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes in Guatemala City claimed he had been robbed of victory by fraud. Ydigoras led in the capital but returns announced by the government party for the countryside gave the presidency to Ortiz.

Police fired on demonstrators raising barricades near the railway station Wednesday killing a man. Six persons, including one policeman, were injured.

Officials Mum On 2nd Test

U.S. Claims Gains In Missile Weaponry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today it has made a successful firing of an experimental rocket designed to reach into space 1,000 miles or more.

And there were unofficial reports that a second apparently successful firing had been made in scientific experiments conducted at Eniwetok Atoll in the Central Pacific.

However, Air Force headquarters here gave no immediate details on the first reported firing. Nor did it confirm reports of a double success in the effort to hurl an object further out into space than any man-made device had gone before.

The reports of the Air Force "Project Farside" rocket shots came as the United States claimed other new gains in science and weaponry to recover some of the prestige lost to Soviet technology in recent weeks.

The United States chalked up these developments Wednesday:

1. Fired a rocket from a balloon floating 100,000 feet above Eniwetok Atoll. The Air Force said it was a success. While technical records of this shot were lacking, the claim that the firing was a success seemed to mean the rocket had shot up not less than 1,000 miles, then came down into the ocean. The original announcement on the project said the objective was to launch rockets to an altitude between 1,000 and 4,000 miles.

A SUCCESSFUL launching would mean it rose to at least 1,000 miles. One officer familiar with the tests said it's possible the rocket may have soared beyond the 4,000-mile goal. Unofficial reports reaching here from the West Coast said a second apparently successful shot was made from another balloon. However, these reports said, automatic metering equipment in the second rocket didn't function properly and that insufficient information was received to determine the rocket's altitude and other data.

Air Force spokesman said concerning the successful shot that there was no reason to believe the rocket went into an orbit like a satellite. They pointed out that the rocket was fired virtually straight up, instead of at an angle parallel to the earth's surface, as is done in satellite launchings.

2. Fired to a 100-mile altitude a prototype of the launching mechanism for the American earth satellite, Vanguard, testing the first stage of a three-stage rocket engine by which it hopes to launch a small test satellite in December and a fully instrumented one by next March.

3. Announced perfection of nuclear depth charges for blasting enemy submarines, saying that these atomic weapons already are aboard some carriers of the Atlantic Fleet. The swiftly expanding Soviet submarine fleet is a source of grave concern to American strategists.

THESE FOLLOWED closely the third successful test, on Tuesday, of an Army Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile. The Air Force has fired two successful Thor IRBMs. But to date, he only won attempts at full-scale tests of the Air Force intercontinental ballistic missile have been failures.

The Pacific test rocket far exceeded in height but hardly matched the popular appeal of Russia's Sputnik, the earth satellite which was nearing its 300th trip around the globe since it was launched Oct. 4. Sputnik was sent to a height of 560 miles as it was directed into an orbit.

The Air Force declined to claim any specific height for its rocket, which was sent aloft to gather scientific information. An officer said it's possible the rocket soared well beyond the 4,000-mile goal set for it. Four previous efforts failed.

Secretary of Defense McElroy said he was encouraged by the demonstrated accuracy in the latest Jupiter test, but said there was need for "progressive, favorable experiences" in the competitive tests of Jupiter and Thor before a decision is reached on what IRBM would go into production. He indicated that such a decision might be up to six months away.

United Nations Charter Hailed On Birthday

UNITED NATION, N. Y. (AP) — Celebrations around the world today marked the most eventful year in the life of the United Nations and the 12th anniversary of the day its charter went into effect.

The theme of this year's U.N. Day programs is "In the Common Interest," a phrase from the U.N. charter. But most speakers were likely to dwell on the Suez and other Middle East crises and the Hungarian revolt. Those events have dominated U.N. discussions during the past year.

On the lighter side, U.N. Day activities include a mountain-climbing contest in Iran, with the winning team raising a U.N. flag on Elburz Mountain and a bicycle race in Mexico.

More commonplace observances included school programs, parades, the distribution of U.N. literature, meetings and festivals.

More than 1,600 U.N. Day committees were set up in the United States and 8,500 towns and cities have reported plans for ceremonies of some kind. The U. S. Committee for the United Nations reported that the governments of only two states, Virginia and Mississippi, took no official notice of U.N. day this year.

In Vienna, Hungary's Communists observed the day by accusing the U. N. of countenancing "lies and insults against the Hungarian government."

Symphony Unit Eats Lunch In Circleville

Members of the Florence, Italy, Symphony Orchestra ate lunch in several Circleville restaurants yesterday.

The symphony, touring the U. S. for a concert stand, stopped here on the way to Toledo where it was scheduled for an appearance last night.

Most local restaurant operators had a difficult time serving the Italian musicians, most of whom could not speak English. After a varied assortment of sign language and other techniques the visitors left the restaurants apparently well-satisfied.

Many stopped at Benny's Court and Main seeking pizza. However, the Italian dish is not served here until after 7 p. m. daily. For a substitute the musicians relied on ham and eggs, toast, chicken noodle soup and sandwiches.

THE orchestra arrived in the U. S. October 3. Since that time the group has played 16 concerts, arriving here yesterday from Charleston, W. Va. Orchestra officials said the symphony is slated to make 62 appearances on an itinerary which will carry it to the west coast and Vancouver, British Columbia. The first appearance was in Carnegie Hall.

The group, traveling in three buses, is composed of 90 members, including eight women and three conductors. Francesco Mander, one of the conductors, said 10 of his bandmen have been hit by the flu bug which is sweeping the country.

Franco Mannino and Charles Zecchi, the other two conductors, agreed with other members that the United States is sweet and gentle and wide, calm and spread out, very much unlike Europe. They especially were delighted with the beautiful fall colors found in Ohio and throughout the mid-west.

Rogers To Be U. S. Attorney

Brownell Quits Post, But Policies Remain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The choice of William P. Rogers to replace Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, to command its forces on the Turkish border.

Brownell resigned Wednesday after more than 4½ years as the government's top legal officer. President Eisenhower accepted the resignation with "very deep regret," and praised Brownell for "a highly significant contribution that you have made in the nation's service."

Saying he plans to return to private law practice, Brownell disclaimed any ambitions for political office and asserted his intention to "stay in private life."

The White House announced that Rogers, deputy attorney general throughout Brownell's tenure, will be named to head the Justice Department. He is expected to take over in about two weeks, but his nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Rogers, a close friend and adviser of Vice President Nixon, has been as strong an advocate of civil rights legislation as has Brownell.

WHEN ASKED whether "the Brownell policy will be the Rogers policy," Rogers replied: "We have worked together for 4½ years, and have gotten along exceptionally well. Any differences we may have had have been very minor. In all major matters, we have seen eye to eye."

Brownell has drawn the fire of many Southerners, who blame him for having played a major role in Eisenhower's decision to use federal troops to enforce racial integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

The 44-year-old Rogers is expected to face some rugged questioning by Southern members of the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider his nomination.

Syria Still Refuses Turkish Mediation

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union is sending one of its top soldiers, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, to command its forces on the Turkish border.

Diplomatic observers in London said the transfer of Rokossovsky, former Soviet proconsul of Poland, was another Russian propaganda move to keep Middle East tension alive and bolster Syria in its cold war with Western-allied Turkey.

Syria Wednesday rejected mediation of the current Middle Eastern crisis by Saudi Arabian King Saud spurring U.S. delegates to the United Nations to press for a broad inquiry into causes of the Syrian-Turkish tension.

The U. N. will debate Friday Syrian charges that Turkey, prodded by the United States, is planning to attack Syria. Turkey and the United States have denied the accusation, counter-claiming that Soviet influence in Syria is causing the trouble.

Syria appeared determined to stand fast against mediation.

OFFICIAL CIRCLES in Damascus reportedly felt that Syria would lose through mediation because Turkey might win some conditions in return for withdrawing her troops from the Syrian border.

Syrian officials reported two incidents on the Turkish border.

Two Turkish tobacco smugglers in a band of seven that opened fire on a Syrian border patrol were reported captured. And a Syrian farmer was injured by the explosion of a mine planted along the border by Turkish authorities to curb smuggling.

Turkey's parliamentary election campaign closed Wednesday night with politicians still ignoring the crisis.

All factions in the election support NATO and Turkey's pro-Western policies.

Cloudy and Cold To Cloak Area

Cloudy, windy and cold is the weatherman's prediction here for tonight.

Although temperature seemed rather warm this morning the mercury suddenly took a dip shortly after noon, sending most local citizens looking for warmer dress.

Low tonight is expected to reach the 30's with a high tomorrow in the low 40's. The outlook also calls for cloudiness and some wind.

Yesterday's rainfall here amounted to 1.31 inches, giving the area its best soaking so far this month. The record now shows a small deficit of only .27 inch for October.

Antarctic Explorers Delayed in Return

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—With a bitter storm whipping snow around their huts, veterans of last winter here got the sad news today that they probably won't be home for Christmas.

Navy Capt. W. M. Dickey, the area commander, told the 317 "old explorers" that bad flying weather has delayed arrival of their replacements. Most personnel changes will now have to await opening of the ice as the Antarctic summer progresses and ships can reach Little America.

Building a Town Is Constant Job

A few days ago our attention was called to an editorial in the Cannelton (Ind.) News, presumably written by Robert Cummings, touching on efforts on the part of citizens which are necessary to "build a town."

The comments are so apt in fitting most communities, towns and cities, such as Circleville and others of less or similar size, we thought the suggestions might be taken to heart in our own city.

We take pleasure in believing, however, that Circleville has quite a large group of citizens who practise as well as believe in the ideas brought out in this editorial. They deserve praise for such efforts and should be an inspiration to other citizens who are lax in their civic interests and prefer to follow the "Let George Do It" pattern.

Here is what the Indiana newspaper said which applies in a lot of places:

To many people building a town is done by a grand flourish or two. They only think of working for progress when something big is afoot or when they have been given a jolt by loss of something they have felt was secure.

How wrong they are.

Building a community is a constant, steady job. It is done by many little things as well as the big ones. For only through attention to the small details can those who would produce the big ones be drawn into the town.

Cleanliness and order are the most apparent marks of a progressive community. Energy of its citizens and pride in their town are watched with care. These things go together. A clean, orderly city is always filled with prideful, hard working inhabitants.

Building a town can be accomplished only if all individuals are ready to plunge wholeheartedly into the work. This can mean keeping sidewalks and gutters clean, houses and other buildings painted and in good repair, maintaining good morale, being ready to say good things about "the old home town." People interested in advancing their community should always be ready to take part in functions where other communities are represented.

City officials should be supported and encouraged to improve streets, sanitation, and the many other facilities that can only be provided through public agencies.

Alert clubs, well-attended churches, good schools and a constant outlook toward improvements are other marks of a growing town. So it is up to the citizens who want to progress, to support and help build those agencies.

Yes, building a town is a constant job. It is one that cannot be shirked, leaving it to chance if anything happens. Good planning and ardent carrying out of the things outlined is necessary.

Every citizen of a thriving city must make himself a part of the work to keep the constant building process going. There cannot be any weak links in the chain of endeavor. If a community wants to grow, it must have citizens who will work to make its expansion sure.

That is why every citizen must always be alert to better his efforts. For in building a bigger, better town, every citizen is indeed helping himself, as well as others.

A growing community always has more opportunities than one going the other way. No community stands still. It either goes forward, or backward, and the actions of its citizens, their actions alone, govern the direction.

Medicine Relieves Tensions

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Don't suffer in silence.

It's just plain foolish, not heroic, to accept discomfort such as that caused by the premenstrual period without complaining to your physician.

Let's discuss some of the symptoms so that you will recognize the trouble for what it really is, a disturbance which will affect at least one out of every three women in this month with possible serious social consequences.

Premenstrual tension seems to be most common among married women, particularly those between the ages of 30 and 40. The symptoms generally begin about four to ten days before the menstrual period.

It probably will begin gradually with feelings of insecurity and foreboding. It will increase in severity until menstruation begins. Then the symptoms will subside, often very dramatically.

Although tension is a very important symptom, it actually is only a small part of the trouble.

Symptoms in addition to tension are irritability, depression, moodiness, emotional instability, antisocial behavior, headache, nausea, gastrointestinal upset.

Others include insomnia, fretfulness, pain and swelling of the breasts, abdominal bloating, backache, leg cramps and a gain in weight with or without visible signs of water retention.

Sometimes there are additional symptoms such as vertigo, acne-like eruptions, asthmatic attacks, changes in appetite, thirst and sexual desire, hostility and anxiety, hypomanic trends, hot flashes, sensations of chills, the shakes and the jitters.

Now all these manifestations of the premenstrual syndrome do not occur in the same woman. And they may vary from period to period.

But even one or two of the symptoms can be enough to make the home of the woman involved—and that of her family—pretty miserable. Undoubtedly, many divorces can be traced directly to domestic troubles which were caused by premenstrual tension.

Question and Answer
P. A. R.: I have heard of an operation which is being performed to increase the circulation to the brain. Is this operation of any help?

Answer: This operation has been used only experimentally. As far as can be determined up to the present time, evidence does not show that it has been of much value.

You're Telling Me!

By HOYT KING
Central Press Writer

It is reported that the Turks are not concerned about the possibility of war, but about the coffee shortage. That's where the trouble is brewing.

Damascus, capital of Syria, is the world's oldest continuously populated site. All that time, and now they're afraid of visitors.

Moscow announces the Russian people will have a two-cylinder "people's car" which will go 75 miles an hour. If their traffic turns out like ours, it will be a kind of mass purge.

Maybe the "people's car" could sprout a big highway program in Russia. That would be the best thing that could happen to our foreign relations.

A Soviet mathematician says a "physical station" may appear soon on the moon. What we wonder is, what on earth it could do?

Senator Symington objects to the fact that U. S. satellite workers have been held to a no-overtime week. He knows the Russians beat our time, but he thinks maybe they wouldn't have beaten our overtime.

If Washington really wants to put the satellite program on a crash basis, why not try some of those professional cocktail party goers. They not only crash, but they can beat everybody to the punch.

Funny Bones Decaying Now

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (A)—S. J. Perelman, regarded by many as the wittiest man alive, believes America's greatest medical problem isn't hardening of the arteries; it's decay of the funny bone.

"Humor writing today?" he said. "I just don't see much of it around."

"The immensity of life is a deterrent. Everything today has assumed such a terrific shape and size it dwarfs the individual and his point of view."

"The movies and television also have siphoned off a lot of possible humorists who became anonymous gag writers. They might have had a viewpoint or an identity, but instead they became part of a six-man team. They are well paid, but their work has no performance."

A raffish Socrates who looks and talks a bit like Groucho Marx (as a matter of fact, he wrote two early Marx brothers movies), Perelman broke into the chuckle industry during the turbulent 1920s, the era of such men as John Held Jr., and Robert Behrman.

"We all starved together," he said. "But there was a tremendous amount of gusto in living in those days."

"But, like everybody else, I went on the auction block."

Since leaving Brown University, Perelman has turned out some 15 books and plays, more than 200 humorous skits for the New Yorker magazine, and innumerable movies. Last year he won the Academy Award for his script, "Around the World in 80 Days."

A man who looks with skepticism on everything in life except the messages he finds in Chinese cookies ("these I accept literally"), Perelman said every young writer begins his career as a thief.

"He has to be," he said. "That is, in the sense he has to read and digest the work of good men who have gone before. Then he has to demonstrate his skill by turning out varnished pieces so well done they show no trace of the sources they sprang from. 'I must say I myself have stolen only from good men.'"

What does he believe is the funniest thing in the world? "The spectacle of a middle-aged man trying to earn his living."

And the saddest? "The same thing," he said. "But I wouldn't want to be thought cynical. I suppose you might say I was an idealist, but just say it and you'll get a blow on the mouth."

Perelman's latest clare was a review on "The Changing Ways of Love" for the Nov. 3 premiere of the new CBS network show, "The Seven Lively Arts," on which critic John Crosby will act as host.

Asked what research he put into this piece, Perelman said flatly: "Try and find out—but it took years and years."

Like all writers, Perelman suffers from insomnia, and he cures sleeplessness by murmuring over and over his favorite sentence in contemporary literature:

"There were rainbow roses on Mosely Mason's dresser this morning."

The source? "It's the opening line from an unpublished novel—although why it's unpublished beats me," said Perelman. "It's better than Milton."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO EDITORS of a Cornell University newspaper, to prove the gullibility of people high in public life, once formed an organization to "rescue from oblivion" one Hugo N. Frye, "the father of the Republican Party in New York."

Invitations to a dinner commemorating Frye's birthday brought enthusiastic replies from the vice-president of the U. S., the Republican National committee chairman, and a dozen congressmen. The secretary of Labor wrote, "It is a pleasure to testify to the career of that sturdy patriot who first planted the ideals of our party in your region of the country."

There was no such person as "Hugo N. Frye," of course. His name came from the then-popular phrase, "You go and try!"

Danny Thomas tells about a Hollywood pair who were rapturously happy for years. Then they met each other.

Americans Certainly Diverse

By George Sokolsky

It is fashionable at the moment to speak of conformity as a characteristic of the American people, although we are probably the most diverse people on earth. I saw a piece in the magazine, "Foreign Affairs," which contained this sentence:

"Canada is a country that cherishes diversity, not conformity."

From the remainder of the article by Miriam Chapin, this was intended to contrast Canada and the United States.

But the silliness of it is that America's principal social problem is how to lessen the effects of diversity when they are socially unbeneficial to the nation. For instance, today we use the word, integration, in a prior generation, we used the word, assimilation. Israel Zangwill spoke of us as a melting pot.

Hundreds of newspapers and magazines are published in the United States in almost every language written by man. Our religious varieties run into the hundreds and if Brooklyn has become a city of synagogues,

Washington has its mosque and San Francisco its Buddhist temple.

This writer makes the point, which "Foreign Affairs" prints, that "Montreal had theater and literature when Chicago was a swamp."

Why compare Montreal to Chicago which is a comparatively new city? If such a comparison is important, which I think it is not, New York, Boston and Philadelphia are the older cities. The theater flourished in New York in colonial times and Boston and Philadelphia produced literature.

Comparisons are not only odious; generally, they are stupid because conditions vary so. If Chicago is to be held out as an example of one country, why not Windsor of the other? Or even, Fort Arthur? What this writer attempts to establish is the superiority of one country over another by comparisons which do not compare and prove nothing. For instance, what great truth does this establish:

"...Canadians turn out by the million for a royal tour, and display their devotion to the young Queen, while being notably hardheaded about loans to her Government. And as for hardheadedness, there is far more of hard steady drinking and less of drunkenness than in parallel social circles below the border."

Americans have turned out by the thousands and have watched on television by the tens of millions the same young Queen, who is not their Queen but whom they admire as a hard-working woman who does well by her own country even if we do inquire, but only occasionally, what is being done with the billions of dollars that we, the United States, have poured into her country.

Compared to what we have economy is based upon American capital which we pour into that country annually, both as investment and as trade.

For instance, Canada's commerce would be moribund were it not for the purchase in the United States of Canadian newsprint, Canadian whiskey, Canadian rye, and now Canadian metals and minerals.

Therefore this boastful writer talks about hardheadedness. She might note that it is fortunate that the United States is a generous and not a hardheaded country. Were not generous, good-natured and sentimental, we might find means to send Canada's economy whirling into a nice little vortex by evading purchases there when Canadians complain about our investments in that country and we might have laws tightening tax procedures which could make it unprofitable for Americans seeking to avoid taxation to switch to Canada as a tax haven.

We shall, undoubtedly, not do anything of the sort, because we are not hardheaded. As for drunkenness, she may have a point there; the Canadians being primarily of Scotch or French origin may have a higher threshold for the imbibing of alcohol than most Americans, but what does that prove?

I read this article and wondered why it was printed in the austere, serious and important "Foreign Affairs," which has such pretensions at being authoritative. But there is no telling what axes are ground and by whom these days. Miss Chapin was announced as correspondent in Canada for the "Christian Science Monitor."

If she wants to see non-conformity, I would like to take her through any 10 blocks of New York City where she can pass from Italy to Canton, China, to Syria and Tel Aviv, Africa and Ireland without buying a ticket for ship, plane, railroad, or even subway.

N-S Freeway To Get Boost With 4 Bids in November

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways expects to give the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway a big construction push in November by opening bids on four sections involving about 17 miles of road.

One five-mile section is in Ashland and Wayne counties. The department previously announced it would open construction bids on it Nov. 12. The project includes four bridges to carry local roads over the four-lane Freeway.

This section will link two others—one in Ashland County and one in Wayne County—for which bids already have been opened. The three sections add up to more than 13 miles of Freeway plus several miles of roads crossing over.

The department has opened bids on another section, in northern Delaware County.

It will open bids on a number of road projects Nov. 26 and is "shooting at" including three Freeway sections on that date.

One section is a five-mile stretch in Ashtabula County that will hook onto a 4.4-mile section in Lake and Ashtabula counties. The department will open bids on it Tuesday.

The other projects for which bids may be opened Nov. 26 are a three-mile section in Wayne and Medina counties and a 3.75-mile section in Delaware and Morrow counties. The Delaware-Morrow section hooks onto the Delaware County section for which bids were opened Oct. 15.

George Thormyer, acting highway director, said all of the construction between Columbus and south of Cleveland is scheduled to be finished by late in 1959.

Work on the first section, in Wayne County, is progressing well.

Freeway work will continue all winter. When cold weather slows up or stops grading, work can go ahead on bridges.

Ralph J. Lehman, chief engineer for interstate projects, announced a Franklin County section of the Freeway from the north corporation line of Columbus to Park Road should be ready for bids Dec. 10.

"We are making every effort to award construction contracts for freeway sections at the earliest possible date," said Charles M. Noble, Ohio's highway chief, "plans on a number of sections are progressing speedily."

Robert Turner Weds Chillicothe Bride

Couple to Live In Circleville

The altar of Trinity Methodist Church, Chillicothe, was banked with palms for the Saturday wedding of Miss Marian K. Richter and Mr. Robert W. Turner. Tapers in seven branched candelabra lighted the church for the ceremony which was performed at 6:30 p. m. by the Rev. Harry Baker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Richter, 427 E. Water St., Chillicothe, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Turner, Route 3, Circleville.

When the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father she was gown in a white dress of peau de sole and Chantilly lace, styled with portrait neckline and trimmed with iridescent paillettes and pearls. The gathered skirt was made more bouffant by an old fashioned hoop. The fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a pearl and iridescent tiara.

Carnations and rosebuds embellished the white satin covered Bible which she carried. Miss Susanne Yochum, Chillicothe, was the maid of honor in a ballerina length gown of soft mint green fashioned of peau de sole. She wore a matching claw hat with a circular veil of green illusion. Her colonial bouquet was of white rosebuds and green carnations.

The best man was Mr. Walter Heine III, Circleville. Ushers were Mr. Delvin Hicksenhyer and Mr. Harold Stewart, both of Chillicothe.

A half hour of organ music preceded the ceremony. Miss Shirley Hammond, organist, played "Always", "O Perfect Love", "Autumn Leaves" and the traditional wedding marches.

At the wedding reception held in the church social rooms Mrs. Richter received her guests in a gown of Perivanche blue silk crepe with black accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore brown embroidered satin with champagne beige accessories.

The refreshment table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake encircled with coral and white chrysanthemums.

The couple left for Pompano Beach, Fla., for a honeymoon of two weeks. The going-away costume that the new Mrs. Turner wore was a gray sheath dress. Her accessories were black and her corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride, a graduate of Chillicothe High School, attended the Chillicothe Branch of Ohio University and is employed as secretary at the Ralston Purina Co. of this city.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Circleville High School and is an air technician at Lockbourne Air Base.

The couple will reside at 591 N. Court St. when they return from their honeymoon.

LAST MINUTE MAKE-UP MATERIALS — It takes just a minute or two to freshen make-up if materials are kept in a handy drawer or on a convenient shelf. Cotton balls and baby oil to remove make-up, lip stick and powder to apply are a few of the useful things that would go into the Make-Up drawer.

Beauty 'Beauty Break' Is Good Idea

By JEANNE D'ARCY
King Features Syndicate

Take a "beauty break." It's a good idea for home and office workers alike. You can't expect your face to stay fresh without a touch-up or two during the day.

The wise wife is one who looks fresh when her husband comes home from the office.

Maybe she's been office-working all day, too. If so, she's wise to take those first five minutes after 5 p. m. and spend them freshening up. When she leaves the office for home, she should look just as bright as when she reported for duty.

No working wife's attractive when she rushes in—usually with an arm full of last-minute dinner purchases—her hair every which way, her make-up faded, her attitude harried.

The wife who's a homemaker is apt to be the biggest beauty offender when it comes to being pretty at dinnertime. Her day — full of countless chores — doesn't call for dressing up. As a result, at 5 p. m., or 6 p. m., she may still be wearing her houseworking clothes. She may have been too busy all day to bother with make-up (a mistake!).

Whatever her program during the day, she should greet her husband with an attractive face. A few beauty supplies, kept handy in the kitchen, can be used for a quick fresh-up treatment while dinner's cooking.

A convenient drawer or shelf should be stocked with a mirror (for that last-minute look-see), cotton balls (to remove make-up with baby oil and to apply powder), lipstick.

It takes just a minute or two to beautify and is well worth the trouble if it wins the admiration of Mr. Husband. Is there anybody it's more important to please?

Town and Country Club Holds "Pocketbook" Party

The Salter Creek Town and Country Club held a "Pocketbook Party" at the Tarleton Lutheran Church Wednesday evening. Twenty-one members and guests were present in spite of rain and "flu".

Mrs. Dalton Delong, Laurelville, president, gave the welcome. Each member introduced her guests.

Several contests were conducted. Mrs. William Defenbaugh was awarded a container in which foliage plants were growing.

Guests and members looked over the sample handbags, gloves and wallets and gave their orders, many of which were to be Christmas gifts.

Mrs. C. T. Grattidge presided at the tea table which was centered with an arrangement of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Flanking the centerpiece were tapers of white in old brass candlesticks. Mrs. Defenbaugh had made the arrangement.

ONE-PIECE day dress of sage green chiffon wool, banded and bowed at the hipline, is from the William Fox fall and winter collection.

Guild 6 Has 'Old Clothes' Meeting, Wed.

Mrs. Howard Pryor, Seyfert Ave., entertained Berger Hospital Guild 6 Tuesday evening at her home. Ten members were present for the novel dress-up meeting.

Members came dressed in old clothing they had bought at the previous meeting from other guild members. The proceeds from sale of the clothing went into the treasury. And the outfits of guests provided an evening of comedy. Pictures were taken of some of the funniest costumes.

At the short business meeting a letter was read from Alva Williamson, Berger Hospital Superintendent, thanking guild for the donation members had provided for the air conditioning unit.

Guild 6 will have a variety stand at the General Hospital Guild Bazaar N. v. 15 which is to be held in the lobby of the New American Hotel.

Birthday Dinner Honors Mrs. Bennett

Mrs. Frank Bennett, S. Court St., was guest of honor at a dinner party given to celebrate her birthday by her two daughters Mrs. Howard White, Route 4, Circleville, and Mrs. Albert Louer, Highland Park, Ill., and their husbands.

The dinner was held at Pickaway Country Club for about 25 guests.

Fall flowers centered the table and a birthday cake climaxed the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Louer arrived in time for the dinner and left by plane yesterday.

The World Today

By ED CREAUGH
For James Marlow
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next session of Congress may well become known as the "Sputnik session."

Lawmakers have been traveling far and wide during Congress' off-season. The word is seeping back that they find the Soviet satellite a prime topic of public concern, right behind such local and more immediately pressing problems as jobs and prices.

This naturally will encourage the Democrats—not that they need much encouragement—to hitchhike on the satellite, so to speak, as an issue to raise against the Eisenhower administration.

They can count on some help from Republicans. Only Wednesday Sen. Bridges (R-NH) lit into the President's foreign economic adviser, Clarence Randall, for calling Sputnik "a silly bubble."

Bridges said the Randall comment was "grossly misleading and irresponsible." The New Hampshire senator is one of the legis-tors who wants a Senate investigation of the country's satellite and missile program.

President Eisenhower himself has indicated concern over public reaction to Sputnik. He plans a series of speeches—rather urgent in tone, it appears—to reassure the American people about their country's scientific and military progress among other things.

The President has said that while Sputnik shows the Russians have a mighty rocket it doesn't increase by "one iota" his concern for the country's security. Apparently he now feels it necessary to explain why he feels this way, in the light of evidence that his confidence is not too generally shared.

Eisenhower may be able through his speeches to take off some of the heat. The armed forces may do the same thing by some impressive demonstrations in the missile field. But the fact remains that—even if U.S. officials didn't regard this country as being in a race—the Russians were the first to launch an artificial moon. And the question naturally arises: What else may they be first in?

So Congress will investigate. What else it can do is not clear at this point. Vote more money for missile development; order a shakeup in the country's military-scientific setup? That's a pretty good bet—if the administration doesn't do it first.

Sputnik's effect on Congress will be far-ranging. It will influence foreign affairs and defense strategy discussion. It already is being cited alternately as evidence that (1) more money should be spent on development of weapons and less on foreign aid, and (2) more money should be spent on foreign aid to counteract the effect of Sputnik.

Quite a flurry, all in all, to be stirred up by what the President has called "one small ball up in the sky."

Chapel at Prison To Cost $133,818

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It will cost about $133,818 to build a chapel at the Marion Correctional Institution.

That's the total of apparent low bids on the general, plumbing, heating and cooling and electrical contracts which were opened Wednesday. The state estimated the work would cost $183,975.

The Marion Contracting Co. of Marion was apparent low bidder on the general contract at $104,759.

Cincy Chiefs Ask Caution In Gas Use

CINCINNATI (AP)—City officials made a new plea today for care in using gas space heaters after a newly married couple and the woman's baby by a previous marriage were found dead in their apartment here.

The victims were Paul Edward Anderson, 18, his bride of six days, Grace, 19, and Mrs. Anderson's 9-month-old baby, Timmie. They died of carbon monoxide fumes from a gas heater.

Charles W. Gruber, chief of the city's heating inspectors, said the heater was vented and connected with a flue but that the flue was clogged with soot and debris. He said the heater also did not have a gas regulator, with the result the flame gave off a greater concentration of fumes.

Gruber urged gas heater users to check the flue and be sure the draft is unobstructed.

The three bodies were found Wednesday after other residents of the building noticed an odor in the hallway. The bodies of Mrs. Anderson and the baby were on a bed and Anderson was lying on a couch nearby.

Louis Lovelless, father of the young woman, said the couple was married here Oct. 17 and then went to Anderson's home in Beatyville, Ky., for a honeymoon. They returned to Cincinnati Sunday.

Neighbors said they last saw Anderson alive Monday morning.

Americans Now Buying More Dairy Products

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey shows that Americans are buying more fluid milk.

Their purchases in the April-June quarter of this year were 6 per cent larger than in the corresponding period last year and 10 per cent over that of the April-June quarter three years ago.

Officials said these increases apparently reflect joint efforts of the government and the dairy industry to promote consumption of fluid milk as one means of slowing down the pile-up of surplus dairy products in government hands under price support programs.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In answer to the wife who asks if social drinking is risky, possibly leading to addiction, your comments suggest that you are reluctant to tell people to abstain entirely from alcoholic beverages. Why?

Alcohol cannot benefit one physically. If one is weak emotionally, he will not gain strength of character by drinking. And one must be weak indeed if he drinks simply to follow the crowd. The urge to be of-the-same-pattern is understandable in a 15-year-old, but not appropriate to an adult.

If one drinks because of fear of losing friendship or associations otherwise desirable, there is no real basis for such fear. I can testify to that from personal experience.

From 1917, when I entered the Army at age 26, I have refrained from drinking—originally because general orders forbade it.

Since discharge in 1919 I have been active in my profession, which requires dealing with persons from all strata of society. Also I have been active in several fraternal organizations—at least two of which, I regret, have earned reputations for drinking. And I have attended innumerable conventions, parties, etc., where the men, and in recent years the women, I am sorry to say, drank; some getting drunk.

Nevertheless, I have never been embarrassed or snubbed or insulted because of my invariable "No thanks; I don't use it," to all invitations to drink. There's no need to make any excuse or speech about it. A person has a right, that must be recognized, to decide what he will put into his stomach and what he will keep out—be it alcohol, shrimp, asparagus or porterhouse steak.

R. J.

DEAR R. J.: In effect you are asking why I don't preach against the use of alcoholic beverages, when the subject of drinking is introduced. Well, I think that you yourself have supplied the sensible answer, in your concluding statement, to wit:

"A person has a right that must be recognized, to decide what he will put into his stomach and what he will keep out—be it alcohol, shrimp, asparagus or porterhouse steak."

It was in recognition of this right (reasonably exercised) that the 18th Amendment was repealed, thus putting an end to the so-called noble experiment of trying to stamp out destructive drinking by legal force.

The waste of life, health, money and happiness caused by excessive and addictive drinking is a tragedy of mankind that education may eradicate, in time. But it probably won't be soon. However, great strides have been made in this century towards understanding and thereby learning to control a formerly benighted drive towards alcoholic self-destruction.

Into my original remarks, I interjected a bit of education, I hoped, by calling attention to James Lamb Free's book "Just One More" (Coward-McCann publishers),—in which the author talks turkey to the reader about Charlie, a composite picture of the average problem drinker—"who might be your husband, father, brother, sweetheart or even you."

He dedicates his book "To all the Charlies, my brothers... with affection and with hope that they may receive understanding and help like Julie gave me"—which suggests that Mr. Free is speaking from the heart of personal experience, in laying bare what makes the drinker drink. And in telling how the problem may be conquered, once the drinker's mind is made up.

He also teaches the bedrock truth that nobody—but nobody—can help the drinker stay dry until the drinker himself has decided absolutely that he really wants to stop bending his elbow.

Error Sends Ike Papers To Dem Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—A stenographer's error apparently directed to a Democratic congressional secretary some confidential inter-office White House mail meant for President Eisenhower's economic adviser.

Paul Saunier Jr. is secretary to Rep. Gary (D-Va). Dr. Raymond J. Saunier, who works in the Executive Office Building adjoining the White House, is chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

But the packet of papers delivered by White House messenger last week was addressed to "Dr. Paul Saunier Jr." at the House Office Building.

Saunier read well into the matter before realizing it was not meant for him. But he stopped, he said, before getting to an enclosed copy of a letter Eisenhower had written to Mobilization Director Gordon Gray.

Instead, he said, he returned the whole package to presidential assistant Sherman Adams "with the very earnest hope that the unfortunate stenographer who made this error in your office will not be dealt with too harshly."

What's Brewing In Mideast—War or Peace?

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of three articles by the top Associated Press news analysts reviewing the background and conditions in the tense Middle East.

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — There is a widespread feeling here that the Turkish-Syrian crisis itself is not as important as what is behind it.

Few delegates believe that war is imminent — unless it should come by accident, touched off by some unplanned clash against the background of inflamed passions. Many of these delegates see the crisis as a Soviet adventure into brinkmanship — as a situation manufactured in Moscow to further an all-out Soviet drive for domination of the Middle East.

The situation is undeniably serious. But because the delegates feel the crisis is not really genuine, it has not produced the same

Embezzlement Trial Nearing Jury Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The embezzlement trial of William F. Robinett Jr., a former Federal Court clerk, is expected to go to the jury today.

Robinett is accused of embezzling a $1,000 court bond in 1956. During Wednesday's trial, the 50-year-old defendant denied he ever told federal agents that he took the money.

"I said if there's anything wrong in the clerk's office, I'm responsible for it. I didn't want (the agent) bothering the employees. I was responsible for any action, funds or discourtesies," Robinett said.

Clyde W. Bate and Ernest Bington, two Justice Department attorneys, testified earlier they discovered the shortage on April 24, 1956, and that Robinett later admitted he converted the $1,000 to his own use.

Robinett, who resigned in May, 1956, after 28 years as a Federal Court clerk, told the court the money in his office was kept in marked envelopes in an open desk drawer and that anyone entering the room had access to the drawer.

Faulty Flue Blamed In Death of 8

BELEPRE, Ohio (AP)—Fire that killed a 36-year-old mother and seven of her nine children here Sunday was caused by faulty ventilation of a gas stove, the Washington County sheriff's office reports.

The eight died while trapped in their second-story apartment. Killed were Mrs. Vivian Snider; her daughters, Linda, 14, Sheila, 11, Mona, 7, and Reta Jo, 5 months; and her sons, Mickey, 9, David, 3, and Danny, 2.

This sense of urgency was prevalent last year when the assembly dealt with the invasion of Egypt by Britain, France and Israel. There was real fear of a global war when the Soviet Union threatened to send volunteers as it called them, to Egypt.

This sense of urgency was present also during the crucial days of the Korean War, when it threatened to explode into a third world war.

Today the Soviet Union is trying hard to make out a convincing case that war is near and that the United States is promoting it. But the General Assembly has shown no inclination toward haste.

Western diplomats even speculate that the crisis is a smoke-screen to cover a Soviet takeover in Syria.

The Russians attack western imperialism, Zionism, NATO, the Baghdad Pact and the Eisenhower Doctrine as causes of Middle East tension. At the same time they praise Arab nationalism and urge non-interference in the internal affairs of Arab countries.

This line apparently is intended to woo Arab support while turning the people against any governments which remain friendly to the West.

The main problem of the United States and other non-Communist countries at the moment is to master a strategy which will turn the tables on the Russians and show their real role in the Middle East.

Syria had indicated it wants a U. N. commission to investigate the massing of Turkish troops along the Syrian border.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia is trying to mediate the dispute.

Canada's Lester B. Pearson and British Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell have suggested that the U.N. send a border patrol, similar to the Middle East emergency force, to the troubled area.

There are other possibilities which might be used either independently or in combination with each other. For example, the U.N. might:

1. Offer military, financial and economic aid to any country in the area that becomes the victim of an attack.

2. Call on all member countries to stop sending arms to the area and to avoid interfering in the internal affairs of any country.

3. Urge a meeting of the heads of the governments of the United States, Britain, France and Russia to seek a solution.

This last is being urged by the Soviet Union. The United States and Britain are cool toward it.

Forgetful Banker

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — Before leaving on his vacation, Vice President Parker Bradley stopped at his bank to bid the employees farewell.

He was back a half hour later, explaining: "I forgot my money."

Syrian Civilians Training For Possible Street Fighting

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A group of men, rifles in hand, dived to the ground at a given signal, sprawled on their stomachs and began firing in a partially completed football stadium.

This was the scene today at one training center for Syria's Popular Resistance organization—a movement composed of tens of thousands of civilians in the Arab nation's "irregular army."

The organization has moved into high gear since tension increased over Turkish troop concentrations on the Syrian border.

Some 400 civilian volunteers turned up for the football-field firing practice not far from the heart of Damascus. Many were youngsters who looked as if they had just entered their teens. Some wore the PR uniform — olive green coveralls — but most were in street clothes.

They fired at 28 targets with whatever weapons were available, mostly old French rifles.

The scene was typical of what is happening throughout Syria. In Damascus, Aleppo, Homs and Latakia — all key cities — members of the resistance organization are receiving battle instruction for the "sacred self-protection" of Syria. They are being trained for street fighting. Weapons are being distributed in various cities. The army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry, has called on the volunteers to wage relentless guerrilla warfare in the event of an invasion.

The popular resistance organization is headed by Bizry's brother Col. Salah Bizry.

One of the Damascus group, 15-year-old Fathi Attack, said he joined the movement to "defend the Arab homeland which extends from the Atlantic to the Arab (Persian) Gulf."

Does he believe the Turks will attack Syria? "Yes," said Fathi. Why? "Because they are massing troops on our border."

Reports from Aleppo said the local governor, at a ceremony yesterday, gave the signal to the public resistance organization to start digging trenches around the city and in northern areas close to the Turkish border.

Orphan Squirrels

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Health Department lost one of its bright spots when the mother of a family of five squirrels living outside the county building was killed by a car. But things are looking better now.

After a strenuous game of hide and seek officials using laborers rounded up the orphans and are now hand feeding them until they are old enough to venture outside.

Before being killed the mother was a frequent visitor of the health department. She would loiter on the department's porch, eat from employees' hands and run over their typewriter keys.

Industrialist Says Individual Initiative Hurt

Federal Encroachment Said Not Fiction, but 'Is a Tragic Fact'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Indiana industrialist said today that federal encroachment upon state and local government responsibilities is destroying individual initiative, free enterprise and state sovereignty.

At the 50th annual convention of the National Tax Assn., Lohair Teetor, a director of Perfect Circle Corp., Hagerstown, Ind., made the strongest criticism of federal tax practices yet voiced in a convention that has heard numerous complaints against government fiscal policies.

In a speech prepared for delivery today, Teetor said: "Federal encroachment is not fiction, it is a tragic fact."

Teetor said the federal government has taken on partial responsibility in such exclusive state areas as old age assistance, unemployment compensation, employment services, urban renewal and education.

To meet these new responsibilities, Teetor said, the federal government has been obliged to encroach also upon state sources of tax revenue. He added:

"As the citizens of states continue to be bled white by federal taxes, the sources of state and local taxes are dried up, making it seem all the more necessary for the federal government to assume more and more state responsibilities. Unless this vicious trend is recognized and reversed, our state governments will become mere branch offices of the federal government."

Teetor said present federal levies on manufacturers, estates, gifts and other goods are so high that "no self respecting state legislator dare pile a higher state tax on top of the federal tax."

Teetor also criticized personal income taxes as too high. "A tax of 50 to 91 per cent on income over $16,000 a year is not taxation, it is confiscation," he said.

He concluded: "We the people have given to our lawmakers unlimited power of taxation. To think they could be trusted with such power is to ignore both history and human nature. Congress cannot, or will not, resist the demands of powerful minority groups, if funds are available, or can be made available."

Two other speakers on the day's program dealt with the problem of state-local government relations in the tax field.

Harold P. Alderfer, deputy superintendent of public instruction for Pennsylvania suggested a tax system whereby real property taxes would be levied by local governments for their exclusive benefit, but personal property levies would be made by the state.

He cited the difficulty in collecting personal property taxes on the local level and the ease with which they are evaded as reasons for turning personal property tax collection over to the state with its more efficient collection means.

State non-property tax revenues,

Bricker, Lausche See Alike On Question of Red Sputnik

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two senators—John W. Bricker and Frank J. Lausche—appear to see just about eye to eye on the Russian sputnik.

Lausche (D) said in an interview:

"While we ought to be disappointed, I don't believe we should be thrown into consternation and hysteria. We've got to be militarily strong, attempting at all times to strike the proper balance between added strength and fiscal ability."

Bricker (R) is telling the handful of Ohioans who have written him to express fear:

"The launching of the Soviet satellite is an ominous development,

Deputies Continue Guard in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today continued to guard Mrs. Loretta Sweet, a 27-year-old Dayton mother, against a threatened attack by a mysterious telephone caller.

Mrs. Sweet and her five children stayed with a friend Tuesday night after the caller told her a bomb was in her home. No bomb was found but when she returned home Wednesday morning, the gas jets in her stove were open and the pilot light was off.

A second telephone call came Wednesday night. The speaker asked, "is this Loretta?" and when Mrs. Sweet replied it was, the caller said:

"That's all I need to know."

2 Policemen Bitten By Man Under Arrest

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Two policemen were treated at a local hospital Wednesday for bites on the hands inflicted by an irate customer at the Doghouse Restaurant.

The customer, Lawrence R. Catherman, 21, of Youngstown, was charged with drunkenness, creating a disturbance and resisting arrest.

Patrolmen James Buffalo and Joseph Taormina said Catherman bit them as they were taking him to their cruiser after placing him under arrest for creating a disturbance in the restaurant.

especially on income and sales, should go to metropolitan federations of governments—that is, to cities and their surrounding metropolitan area, Alderfer added.

Allen D. Manvel, chief of the Governments Division of the U.S. Bureau of the Census, reviewed recent trends in state aid to local governments.

He said state aid has been increasing rapidly. It totaled 6.5 billion last year, three times the figure for 1946. At the same time, aid to local governments is not taking an increased fraction of all state revenues, Manvel said. In 1956 the figure was 35.6 per cent of total state revenues. Since 1932, Manvel said, the amount has varied between 33 and 40 per cent.

Most state aid funds are earmarked for specific use by the local government, Manvel said, and there is little sign that general "no strings attached" aid will become an important source of local revenue.

Trial for Mayor Now in 4th Day; Theft Is Denied

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—The embezzlement trial of Dean B. Cranmer, mayor of Salem, went into its fourth day today after a general denial of the charge by the mayor and his wife.

The mayor is accused of embezzling $375 from the city of Salem. He was indicted after auditors made a spot examination of his books last June.

Cranmer and his wife Eleanor, who kept books on city collections, denied the charge from the witness stand Wednesday.

In next month's election, Cranmer is running on the Democratic ticket for a third term as mayor.

One of the trial witnesses was a state examiner, F. L. Orange of Youngstown. He denied under questioning that he was "out to get the mayor."

Refugees Review First Year In Freedom after Hungary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—One year, 365 days, 12 months—a fast trip from nothing to everything. That's the story of Mr. and Mrs. Ferenc Kallai, their two sons and probably many more like them. They are Hungarian refugees.

A year ago, the Kallais, and thousands of their countrymen, decided to resist Russian oppression. They were part of the revolution which gave them only six days of freedom.

Then—more communism, more fear, more torture, more uncertainty.

Asked what a difference a year can make, the Kallais simply hunch their shoulder, raise their eyebrows and laugh uneasily. There is no comparison, they say. Among major differences they listed are freedom, money, lack of fear and lack of government domination.

"Here," says Kallai smilingly, "You can quit your job if you want. And when you want, you can take any other one you want."

In Hungary, he explains, the state gives you a job. You can not quit. And if you displease those

Wisconsin To Defeat Bucks by Point, So Says AP Sports Editor

By JERRY LISK

Midwest AP Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP)—Now is the time for all good omens to come to the aid of this midwest football seer:

Chastened by Purdue and Illinois, the old prognosticator flips the form sheet out the window and starts riding hunches with a .781 batting average on a 25-7 season record.

Wisconsin 14, Ohio State 13—A blue plate special. The Buckeyes are getting away from that home cooking and the Badgers are aching for revenge. Wisconsin hasn't defeated Ohio State since 1946 and for a long while feared that Howie (Hopalong) Cassidy would never graduate. Ohio State ranks fifth nationally in rushing and Wisconsin seventh. The Buckeyes won't be playing Indiana this Saturday.

Michigan 20, Minnesota 14—Again we pick against the board. The Wolverines will be waiting for Bobby Cox this time. Last season, Cox hit his peak in a 20-7 Gopher triumph at Michigan. Illinois proved Minnesota vulnerable to speed and passing. Michigan has speed in Jim Pace and passing in Stan Noskin. Also, the Wolverines want back that Little Brown Jug.

Indiana 14, Villanova 7—Villanova is a one-touchdown favorite, but the Hoosiers ought to be mighty mad at everybody by now. Even a doormat can wrinkle up and trip somebody. It may be the only time Hoosier fans can see how the Side Saddle T works when it works.

Notre Dame 18, Pittsburgh 13—On the theory that a good midwestern team can beat a good eastern team almost any Saturday. The Fighting Irish are unbeaten in three starts, racking up Purdue, Indiana and Army. A week after losing to the Irish, 23-21, Army last Saturday measured Pitt, 29-13. If Notre Dame can conquer Pitt and Navy the following Saturday, the Nov. 9 Irish invasion of Michigan State may be pretty exciting.

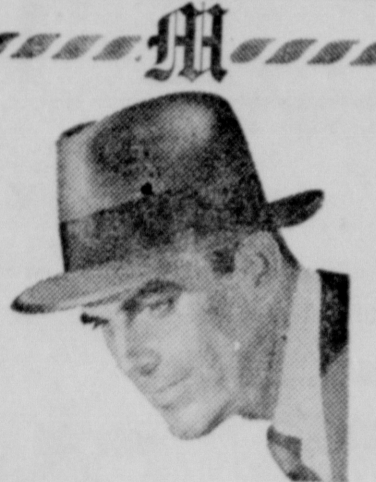

Michigan State 20, Illinois 13—The Illini won't ambush the Spartans again. Last year, Illinois knocked MSU from top ranking with a sizzling 20-13 upset. This time, the Illini invade East Lansing, Mich., a week after inspired Purdue did the same thing to the Spartans by the same score. Coach Duffy Daugherty won't need to give MSU much of a pep talk.

Iowa 21, Northwestern 7—The only thing that can beat the Hawkeyes in this one is overconfidence. Iowa leads the nation in overall offense and Northwestern is winless in four games. It will take a lot of Wildcat passing and Bob Mc Keiver's best running to prevent a rout.

Purdue 21, Miami 6—The Boilermakers may relax after upsetting Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, but still should mow down the Redskins. It's the biggest game of the season for Miami, the Ohio college which sent Ara Parseghian to Northwestern.

Texas Christian 28, Marquette 6—The Warriors' warcry has become a weekly "ouch."

BATTLE for the "Little Brown Jug," between Michigan and Minnesota, highlights the stellar football card for Saturday, October 26. The two Big Ten contenders collide at Minneapolis in the 48th renewal of a series that started back in 1892. In 1903, one of Fielding Yost's great teams played Minnesota to a 6-6 tie at Minneapolis. During the post-game excitement Michigan's water jug was left behind on the field and when Yost wrote for it Minnesota authorities, in a spirit of friendly rivalry, suggested the Michigans "come and get it." This started the famed rivalry between the two schools. (International)

Circleville, Ohio

CHS, Ashville Tilts Postponed

Circleville's homecoming game with Greenfield Friday night has been postponed due to an outbreak of flu in both schools. Greenfield officials notified CHS heads that the McClain squad would not be able to meet the Tiggers who also are hard hit by the flu bug.

CHS Coach Tom Bennett today said no efforts would be made to schedule another game for Friday night. All city schools were closed yesterday afternoon after 605 pupils were reported absent.

Coach Bennett said the Greenfield test may be played sometime next week. However, the decision probably will be based on whether or not the flu epidemic keeps classes closed next week.

Ashville's homecoming game with Jonathan Alder, scheduled Saturday night on the Circleville gridiron also has been postponed. According to Bronco Coach Russ Gregg efforts are being made to reschedule the test next week.

One hour before the fourth game of the World Series, Ed Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves had misplaced his glove. He found it in time to play third base. He won the game in the tenth, 7-5, with a two-run homer.

Boyd Collects Nod Over German Boxer

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Onetime top middleweight contender Bob Boyd of Chicago scored a 10-round unanimous decision over Franz Szuzina of Germany Wednesday night in a bout that saw only the referee hit the deck.

Szuzina, who weighed 159, sent Referee Joe Palmer to the canvas after the seventh-round bell as the official was trying to break the fighters. Boyd was a pound over the middleweight limit at 161.

Boyd, on the comeback trail after suffering a broken jaw a year ago last September, scored early and withstood Szuzina's desperation punches.

Jockey Albert Johnson accomplished the remarkable feat of riding three Pimlico Futurity winners in two years. He won on Morvich in 1921 and won with both Blossom Time and Sally's Alley when the race was split into two divisions in 1922.

Putting the Kasumigaseki Country Club's rough kora grass greens as if they were marble-topped, the two veteran Yanks out-classed handpicked professionals from 29 other nations in the opening round of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

Five strokes back in second place came the surprising Japanese tandem of Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono.

Snead, Demaret Far Ahead in Test

TOKYO (AP)—A course record 67 by Sam Snead and a 69 by Jimmy Demaret sent the United States off to an imposing five-stroke lead today in defense of the international Canada Cup golf crown.

Detroit To Host Title Ring Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit, which hasn't had a championship boxing match since Ezzard Charles decided Jersey Joe Walcott in 15 rounds on March 7, 1951, has officially been awarded a January light heavyweight title bout.

It will match champion Archie Moore against Chuck Spieser, a 28-year-old slugger who calls Detroit home.

Spieser's backers have less than three months to figure out a way to keep from losing $100,000.

That's the amount they guaranteed Archie to defend the title here.

New Road Surface

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Tests are being made here of a non-stretchable rubber coating for highway surfacing. Road officials say the cost is five to six cents a gallon more than conventional asphalt but the rubber is supposed to be more durable, easier to lay and maintain and will provide more traction.

OSU Is Given Nod To Buy 86 Acres

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board has released $445,000 to Ohio State University to buy more than 86 acres of land adjoining its property on the west side of the Olentangy River in Columbus. Another $859,700 was released to the university to build a fine arts building for the College of Education. The board also announced at its meeting Wednesday that $30,000 has been released to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe to hire seven attorneys and a clerk-stenographer to handle traffic cases in local courts.

Detroit Sees Pro Cage Debut

City's New Piston '5' Falters Before Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Detroit — often called the best sports town in the world—officially welcomed its fourth professional sport Wednesday night with a near-11,000 turnout for the city's first taste of professional basketball in more than a decade.

Big Bill Russell and his Boston Celtics spoiled the welcome party at Olympia Stadium with a 105-94 triumph but it was a success anyway, with lots of basketball, an occasional brawl, a 16-piece orchestra and a smattering of politics.

The New York Knicks downed the St. Louis Hawks, defending western division champs, 112-95 in the opener of the National Basketball Assn. doubleheader that lasted five hours.

"We're in Detroit for a long time," said a smiling Fred Zollner, who brought the Pistons to Detroit after 16 years in Fort Wayne.

Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams and City Councilwoman Mary Beck gave official welcomes and representatives of the city's other professional clubs—the Tigers, Lions and Red Wings—were on hand.

The Celtics, defending world champions, pulled away from the Pistons in the third period and waltzed home to their second straight triumph as Detroit's two big scorers, George Yardley and Walter Dukes, fouled out in the final period.

Boston put five men in double figures with Bill Sharman leading the way with 24.

Yardley had 20 and Dukes 19 for the Pistons, who led 64-54 in the third period before the champions pulled ahead to stay.

Tall man Ray Felix of the Knicks and Charlie Share of the Hawks provided most of the excitement in the opener with a lively bit of fist swinging in the second period. Neither player was banished.

Felix scored 22 points and paced the Knicks, who successfully defended high-scoring Bob Pettit, holding the one-time LSU star to nine points.

Big Ten's Best Yard Gainers To Duel Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—Two of the Big Ten's best yard gainers, quarterbacks Tom Haller of Illinois and Jim Ninowski of Michigan State, meet head-on Saturday in a statistical showdown.

Official conference statistics showed today that the two grid-ders dominate major yard-making departments. Illinois is MSU's homecoming foe in one of the top Big Ten football attractions.

Ninowski is ranked the No. 1 passer of the Big Ten with 22 completions in 33 attempts for 375 yards and 4 touchdowns. Haller is second with 17 out of 26 connections for 306 yards and 2 TD's.

Ninowski, despite a minus 29 yards rushing, is the total offense leader with a net total of 346 yards and a 7.9 average per play. Haller is second with an 18-yard rushing gain to boost his total to 324 for a 9.5 average.

Los Angeles Welcomes Its Dodger Crew

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This city gave big league baseball a tumultuous welcome Wednesday night.

Hundreds of spectators strained against ropes as a chartered plane carrying the vanguard of the Los Angeles Dodgers set down at International Airport.

Cheers blended with jazz and band music as the plane taxied into the glare of television lights.

A U. S. senator was jostled unnoticed in the crush.

President Walter O'Malley was the first of the 28 Dodger officials off the plane. His beaming Irish face was greeted with a loud roar. He waved his arm at huge hordes of cheering fans on the side of the plane—"Los Angeles Dodgers." Another roar from the crowd.

City Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman stumbled through the maze of cameras and the tangle of television and radio wires.

"Welcome to Los Angeles," she shouted into a microphone.

The crowd surged forward from behind the roped-off area. Someone recognized a husky fellow buffeted in the stampede.

He was Sen. William Knowland. The California Republican was pushed to the front, where he extended the state's welcome to O'Malley and his Dodgers.

Del Flanagan, St. Paul middleweight, won 40 straight professional boxing matches until held to a draw by Johnny DeFazio in New York on March 16, 1950.

Texas Eastern Converting Big Inch Line to Petroleum

Considerable local activity will be noted over the next few weeks along the route of Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.'s Little Big Inch pipeline as workmen begin reconverting the line from natural gas service to a common carrier of petroleum products. The workmen are expected to move into the area soon and will probably take several weeks to complete this phase of the activity.

Baxter D. Goodrich, vice president and chief engineer of Texas Eastern, said that the work involves reconverting the pipe for a different type of service. He pointed out that the line was originally built to carry petroleum products, but has been used for 10 years as a natural gas carrier. Upon completion of this reconversion program the line will be back in the service for which it was originally built.

When the reconversion program is complete and the Little Big Inch is back in service as a products carrier, activities in this area will be much the same as they have been in the past, Goodrich said. He pointed out, however, that while the program is going on, local merchants and businesses will benefit considerably from the sale of goods and services to the workers who will be engaged in the project.

He said the line has already been emptied of natural gas as part of the reconversion process. It will now be filled with water and placed under pressure. This will permit thorough testing of the line after which the water will be removed. With some additional work the line will then be ready to accept clean petroleum products.

WHILE THE PIPELINE is being tested in this area all persons will be requested to stay away from the pipeline right-of-way and farmers will be asked to keep their livestock from straying on it. As planes flying low along the pipeline right-of-way will be a sign that testing operations are under way, Texas Eastern personnel will inform motorists in the vicinity of testing operations of what is occurring.

Goodrich said that with the cooperation of the local residents the work can be accomplished rapidly.

Polish Immigrant Given Clemency By Gov. O'Neill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland woman, faced with deportation to Poland Oct. 30 because of "moral turpitude," can remain in the United States with husband and daughter, thanks to Gov. C. William O'Neill.

In the first act of executive clemency since he took office, O'Neill Wednesday granted full pardon to Mrs. Anna Lukaszewicz Rodville, 44, convicted in 1937 and again in 1953 of petit larceny charges. She was fined but received suspended jail sentences on both offenses.

She appealed to the governor when federal attorneys prepared to deport her under a federal law providing for such action against persons with two separate convictions involving moral turpitude.

Mrs. Rodville came to the United States when she was a year old.

Inger Stevens Shuns
Bergman Comparison

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Being a Swede, Inger Stevens has naturally been compared with Ingrid Bergman. Being brown-faced and blonde, she has been compared with Grace Kelly.

"Though they are complimentary, I hate comparisons," says Inger. "I'd rather be known as Inger Stevens."

My bet is that she will get her way. Already she has made a fine impression as Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Man on Fire." She went on to "City of Fear" with James Cagney, and is now playing opposite Yul Brynner in "The Buccaneer."

She is strikingly beautiful, as Bergman and Kelly were. She is also a convincing dramatic actress. And Inger is warm and friendly, which the two noted ex-patriates were not.

Inger is an authentic Swede, but she's also an American beauty. She came to this country at 10, lived in both Manhattan—New York and Kansas. She grew up in the latter, where her father was a teacher at Kansas State Agriculture College.

"I've been supporting myself since I was 15," she related.

"I've done everything, including taking inventory at Montgomery Ward in Kansas. What fun it was—counting wool socks with the temperature 115°."

She went back to New York and tried her hand at modeling, posing for toothpaste commercials and acting in television. The latter gave her seasoning and brought her to the attention of movie makers.

She was signed by Paramount. Meanwhile she played a Swedish maid in the Playhouse 90 show, "Eloise." This caught Producer Sol Siegel's eye, and he tested her for "Man on Fire."

A Philippine National Guard division was organized, trained and its services offered to the United States in 1917. The division was incorporated into the United States Army on Nov. 20, 1918.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three old favorites will vie for housewives' attention at meat counters around the country this weekend. They are chuck roast, poultry and pork.

Roast lion of pork is probably the best bet for the price-conscious shopper with reductions advertised by major food chains ranging from 4 to 10 cents a pound. It can be served with apple sauce, cabbage or sauerkraut, all available at marked-down prices.

Chuck roast is attractively priced but the general trend for other cuts of beef is higher. Wholesale prices are firm.

Frying chickens and roasting turkeys head the parade of best buys in the poultry department. Turkeys are in more than ample supply. By Thanksgiving week prices are likely to be a little higher than now but they'll still be four, five or six cents a pound lower than last Thanksgiving.

With Halloween coming up, you can count on plentiful supplies of pumpkins and apples.

Other outstanding buys in fruits include pears, notable the Bartlett and Bosc varieties, and California grapes—especially Emperor and Thompson seedless.

Egg prices show mixed trends this week. Generally speaking the most expensive eggs—the large grade A whites—are down a little, while the medium-sized and pullet varieties are higher.

County Land Sale Ruling Is Outlined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today counties may not sell county-owned real estate at auction, but may sell only on the written bid of the highest responsible bidder.

The opinion went to Prosecutor Fred E. Jones of Warren County in reply to several questions raised about the sale of land on which the Warren County Memorial Hall is located in Lebanon.

Saxbe said the bids on county-owned land may be sealed or unsealed, whichever is specified in the public advertisement inviting the bids.
